

At Least 46
Are Killed In Worst Storm
Of Century

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hurricane Hazel, ripping through an eight-state area and the District of Columbia, left in its roaring wake a death toll of at least 46 plus millions in property damage.

Termed one of the worst continental storms of the century, Hazel's hurricane winds were "calmed" to gale force by Pennsylvania's Allegheny and Pocono Mountains—but still packed the punch to disrupt up New York State and take five lives in the area.

Hazel isn't "dead," the New York City Weather Bureau said early today.

"The hurricane formed a secondary low over the Great Lakes and is merging with a Hudson Bay storm," the Bureau said.

At 11 p.m. last night the Washington Weather Bureau said:

Turns Into Cyclone
"Hazel has become an extratropical cyclone and is located over central Lake Ontario moving northward about 50 miles per hour."

"At least two deaths were reported in the southern and central Ontario area early today as a result of the storm."

Although her outer winds merely "brushed" the New England area, Hazel's sprawling might still was making itself felt early today, with the coastal regions awaiting the threat of abnormally high tides.

At an early hour, storm warnings still were being flown from Block Island, off Rhode Island, to Eastport, Me.

The big blow grazed the New York metropolitan area with gusts of more than 100 miles an hour.

The state-by-state death toll left in hurricane Hazel's trail of wreckage:

New York	8
Virginia	7
Pennsylvania	7
North Carolina	6
Maryland	6
New Jersey	4
Delaware	4
Washington, D. C.	3
Massachusetts	1

Spanned 11 days ago in the Windward Passage about 1,600 miles east-southeast of Miami, Hazel's 130 m.p.h. center smashed into the U.S. mainland early Friday about 40 miles south-southeast of Myrtle Beach, a resort community half way up the South Carolina coast. Thousands of beach homes were torn to splinters and many homes were washed away.

Leaving the debris-choked Carolinas, the hurricane hurtled into Virginia, cutting a 200-mile swath through the central part of the state, doing damage in the millions and causing injuries by the score.

Towing Tug Sinks
At Norfolk, the tug Indian towing five barges sank in the rough water of the James River. One crewman died and three were missing.

The hurricane blacked out power service along the eastern shore from the Virginia Capes to southern Delaware, and for scattered sections around Baltimore and central Maryland. Floods in western Maryland made scores temporarily homeless.

3 INJURED IN HARRISBURG
ROAD ACCIDENT

The unfinished berm on the Harrisburg-Gettysburg Rd. and the storm caused two auto accidents Friday night in which three persons were hurt and damage totaled $1,603.

The three were hurt in the accident caused partially by the storm, state police said.

They reported that Betty Jo Naugle, 28, Chambersburg St., was driving in the rain one mile south of York Springs at 5:15 o'clock Friday night when her car skidded across the wet highway and was struck by a northbound car operated by Charles A. Snyder, 41, Washington, D. C.

After being hit by the Snyder vehicle the Naugle car knocked over a two-by-four-by-nine pole holding the roof of a fruit shed owned by George Lay, York Springs R. 2.

Soft Berm Blamed

In the crash Betty Jo Naugle suffered lacerations and abrasions of the right knee and a bruised forehead. Mrs. Ina B. Snyder, wife of the other driver, had both knees bruised. Charles Snyder had bruises of the left knee, lacerations of the nose and a bruised chest. None sought medical treatment immediately. Damage was estimated at $600 to the Washington car and $400 to the Naugle sedan.

The other accident occurred at 11:30 o'clock Friday morning 1 1/2 miles south of Heidelsburg on the newly reconstructed Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. Police said David G. Leshar, 74, Seneca, N. Y., driving south, got too near the edge of the new highway and the right front wheel of his car dropped nearly ten inches off the edge of the road.

The berm is in process of being placed along the newly-surfaced highway, but has not been completed. When Leshar sought to get his car back on the highway, the right wheel was damaged in being pulled up over the lip of the roadway and the car went out of control into the opposite lane, and collided with a northbound car operated by Harold W. George, 55, Perry, N. Y. George's car, after being hit, went into a field. No one was injured. Damage was estimated at $300 to each car.

members of the Senior English classes there as a part of the school's observance of Pennsylvania Week.

In other classes there were talks on Pennsylvania subjects and displays of Pennsylvania Week materials.

Miss Dulaney's theme was "Pennsylvania Is a Great State."

Her essay, selected as the best by a committee of teachers, follows:

"Virtue, Liberty and Independence," the state motto, describes well the greatness of Pennsylvania. Established by William Penn in 1681, the "Keystone State," one of the 13 original colonies, has developed today into one of the most outstanding states in the union.

Although 32nd in size among the states, Pennsylvania ranks third in population and second in the value of manufactured products. The manufacturing industries are highly diversified. The Pittsburgh district produces more steel and steel products than any other place in the world. Coke and coal tar products are produced more abundantly in Pennsylvania than in any other state. Textiles, candies, glass, chemicals, paint, leather, locomotive and railway equipment, electrical appliances.

PORCH LIGHT
CHEST DRIVE
OPENS TUESDAY

All householders of Gettysburg are urged to turn on their porch lights Tuesday evening, as a signal to Community Chest solicitors that they want to join in this year's Red Feather campaign. Fund Drive Chairman Atty. John A. MacPhail urged today.

The solicitors will start on their rounds about 7 p.m. Tuesday, as soon as the "Kickoff Dinner" for the campaign concludes. The dinner will begin at 5:45 o'clock at the YWCA, and all solicitors are urged to attend. A fund drive official said that the response so far from the campaigners has been "very good," and that a majority of the 130 workers in the campaign drive are expected to attend.

Out-of-town stores have already been contacted by a special committee seeking donations, and the results will be announced at the dinner. Robert Albright headed the committee.

Make Daily Reports

Each of the door-to-door solicitors will report his progress each night to the Community Chest headquarters, in the Chamber of Commerce office. The results will be tabulated and marked on a huge "thermometer," one of which will be placed at each entrance to Lincoln Square. These thermometers will indicate the progress of the campaign.

Chairman MacPhail has appointed a number of committees to handle various facets of the drive. He and other Chest speakers have been addressing many of the civic and fraternal organizations of Gettysburg during the past ten days.

The goal of the campaign is $17,000, to be divided up among the Recreation Association, the Library, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Clive Nurses Association, and the YWCA. A reserve fund for emergencies is also being set up.

Here And There
News Collected At Random

One of the most moving tributes ever paid to this great country of ours came recently from a German-born, naturalized American who left his estate of $70,000 to the government of the United States. The reason for the gift was that "my wife and I are so much indebted for the blessings we have enjoyed as citizens of this country." How much do those of us who have always lived here appreciate the blessings we enjoy?

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corporation, recently said: "I view with some alarm the rapid disappearance of one of America's most precious natural resources... our native supply of plain, old-fashioned common sense."

More than 200,000 service stations in the United States last year satisfied the voracious appetites of more than 55,000,000 motor vehicles which consumed more than 43,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline along with vast quantities of lubricants.

Many a property owner has dreamed of striking oil on his land. But what a shock he would get today if he had to drill the well himself.

First, the cost of drilling a 10,000 foot well would range from $250,000 to $1,000,000, depending on widely varying conditions. Equipment needed would be a complete rig, weighing about 200 tons; 10,000 to 12,000 feet of drill pipe; 12,000 feet of casing; 25 to 100 drilling bits; 500 to 1,000 tons of drilling.

Pennsylvania Mountains Split
Hurricane Hazel But Death And Devastation Are Left In Wake

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pennsylvania painfully shook itself free today of the debris left in the wake of one of the most vicious hurricanes in the state's history.

Hurricane Hazel, a giant of a storm out of the south Atlantic, veered across the Carolinas, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and central Pennsylvania last night.

Against the rock wall of the Keystone State's midland mountains the huge storm was split asunder and continued into New York state with less fury. But in Pennsylvania it left seven dead and damage expected to run into the millions.

It was a monster of a storm that swept the far corners of the state as it spearheaded its way into Pennsylvania at a point almost due south of Harrisburg at nightfall.

Philadelphia, 150 miles to the east, had gale winds that felled trees, disrupted rail traffic and

SPECIAL POLIO
DRIVE IN ADAMS
NETTED $1,941

Adams Countians donated $1,941.35 in the emergency drive for funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mrs. Joseph Codori, chairman, said today in making the final report on the campaign.

She expressed her appreciation to the many countians who donated or who held activities of various kinds to raise funds toward the special campaign held to help meet the national deficit in Infantile Paralysis funds this year.

Special activities, including a party by the local Moose, a special entertainment held by children at Biglerville, brought in $274.40. The remainder of the $1,941.35 came from donations mailed by county residents to Mrs. Codori.

Total Of $10,971 This Year

Of the amount raised, one-third will remain here to augment local funds available to help countians suffering from the disease. One-third will go toward the fund to complete the mass-vaccination program started nationally this spring and the remainder will go to the National Foundation to help areas where local units are short of funds and to help carry on the national research program.

The sum brings to $10,971.35 the amount countians have donated so far this year to polio. During the regular March of Dimes campaign in January $9,030 was donated. That sum was divided just as the emergency campaign returns were split.

The donations as listed by post-office were: Abbottstown, $26; Arendtsville, $103.50; Aspers, $33; Bendersville, $25.50; Biglerville, $151; Cashtown, $134.40; East Berlin, $62.25; Fairfield, $39.80; Gardners, $75.27; Gettysburg, $961.69; Greenstone, $3; Guernsey, $8; Hampton, $1; Iron Springs, $4.50; Littlestown, $154.79; McKnightstown, $6; New Oxford, $138.40; Orrianna, $59; Peach Glen, $1; Seven Stars, $1; Table Rock, $1.30; York Springs, $71.95.

County Escapes Serious Damage
From Hurricane; Utility Lines
Down, Orchards Whipped By Winds

Going on an alert basis at 11:30 a.m. Friday with the approach of Hurricane Hazel, Gettysburg's radio station WGET again demonstrated its public service policy by keeping the public advised on the progress of the "big blow" as it neared and swept across this area.

Regular programs were abandoned during the day and it was not until 8:30 p.m. when "Hazel" had come and gone that "WGET" returned to its regular broadcast pattern with news of the hurricane limited to the regular news broadcasts until midnight.

On "Full Alert"
Along with the Civil Defense organization and the firemen throughout the county, WGET put the station on a "full alert" before noon.

From that time on, 39 storm warnings and "advisories" were broadcast at frequent intervals to keep the public informed of the progress of the storm.

Sixteen special announcements for schools were made concerning postponed football games and altered bus schedules for Friday afternoon. Many church groups called upon WGET to announce postponements of church activities scheduled for Friday evening. The radio station's entire staff was on duty throughout the "alert" period and frequent pleas were made on the air to limit all telephone calls to business or emergency messages. The staff was kept busy at the radio station answering telephone inquiries, reports of local damage and questions for special storm information.

General Warnings

At frequent intervals during the day general warnings were issued to householders to stay away from windows, keep blinds drawn, avoid necessary missions. At the end of these "advisories" the announcer would add the instruction: "In case of special need or emergency, call 71, 800 (the fire company) and C-D headquarters (numbers) or Radio Station WGET at 850."

The station received three fire alarm reports and one report of a dangling electric wire.

FATHER IS HELD IN MURDER OF LITTLE BABY

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled the death of 13-month-old Dorothy Jean Pruey was caused by "asphyxiation due to pressure administered on both cheeks."

Shortly after the jury of three men and three women returned its verdict, Dist. Atty. William Hollis arrested Donald Andrus on an open charge.

Hollis said he will confer with Dr. L. A. William B. Ryan later to do further action in the case.

Andrus, who testified that he and the dead child's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Pruey, lived together in a Lock Haven apartment where the youngster died, told the jury he "held her (Dorothy Jean's) cheeks for about three or four seconds."

He said he did not mean to hurt the girl but only wanted to make her stop crying.

Blood Clot On Brain

The child was dead on arrival at Lock Haven Hospital Oct. 7. Coroner Leroy Bryerton said an autopsy revealed death was caused by a blood clot on the brain. He said "death was due to unnatural causes."

He said "this child got a terrible beating at some time or another." Bryerton said the child had suffered a broken leg and two black eyes about two weeks before her death.

Referring to those injuries, Mrs. Pruey said she did not know how they occurred.

The victim's father, Alrman Kenneth Pruey, was at the inquest but did not testify. He was on duty with the Air Force in Texas when the child died.

Mr. and Mrs. Pruey have two other children, Sheila 3, and Kathy 4.

The winning act will have an opportunity to appear on the Original Amateur Hour Television Show in New York.

The contest, one of nine being held by Southern States throughout its six-state area, will be judged by a representative of the Amateur Hour. Participants, all are amateurs, were chosen from 450 talent contests held earlier this year in the local communities.

JACKSON, N.C. (AP)—Returning from a delivery, the driver saw someone in the rear of his meat truck. He slammed the door on the refrigerated compartment and started driving around in search of a policeman.

When he couldn't find one, the driver stopped at a service station and called several men to the truck. They cautiously opened the door and found a chilled-to-the-bone meat sanitary inspector.

County Escapes

when an electric wire set fire to a tree near Weaver's dairy on the Harrisburg Rd. and firemen were notified when another tree along the Harrisburg Rd. caught fire about 9 o'clock. But in neither instance, Metropolitan Edison Co. officials said, were homes in the area without light. The wires rubbing the trees set them afire, but the wires did not break and the current continued on to the homes along the line.

In the northern end of the county, the Wenksville area was without power for a time. A large tree crashed across the road at Bryonia, bringing down wires, and blocking the road.

Some Cashtown residents were without power for a time. But most of the 400 outages in the county were individual homes. Numerous farmers had to return to hand milking when power failures rendered milking machines useless.

Twenty Metropolitan Edison employees worked throughout the night. This morning one crew was sent to help York County, and another went to Bonneville where the town was reported without current.

Apples Damaged

Apple growers said this morning there has been "plenty of damage" to the apple crop.

The high winds that whipped the fruit-laden trees brought down an estimated one-fourth to one-third of the apples that remained on the trees at the present stage of apple harvest operations.

The extent of the damage varied in individual orchards, depending upon how far the apple picking had progressed before the storm. Some of the heaviest-laden trees had the least damage while others not so well-loaded with fruit were whipped about more freely and lost more of their fruit.

Franklin Co. Hit Too

Many of the apples, dashed to the ground or against limbs by the force of the wind, will be usable only as "siders" while others that fell on roads may be acceptable at processing plants if they can be gathered quickly.

No estimates were available today on the extent of the loss to apple orchards but one prominent grower said it would amount to "thousands of dollars." Reports from Franklin County said a fourth of the apple crop was blown off the trees there by gales that reached 43 mph.

Relay Radio Messages

The importance of the Littlestown radio central station to the Fire Company-Civil Defense set-up was displayed again Friday night. The Central Station at Gettysburg was unable to contact Abbottstown, Centennial and other mobile units in the eastern part of the county. Littlestown relayed messages from Gettysburg to the areas and then sent the answers back.

In addition Littlestown served as a clearing house and center for the eastern part of the county, just as the Gettysburg central station served the western part of the county. By radio firemen were able to call the central stations to notify utility companies of lines down or warn of other dangers and difficulties.

Approximately 200 men were alerted as a result of the storm. In every fire house in the county, firemen stood by from about noon on to 9 o'clock last night. Most of the firemen answered calls in their immediate areas, preventing any possibility of great loss from fire that might have occurred had there been any delay in giving assistance.

Helped Follow Storm

At the radio center in the Gettysburg Fire House, and similarly at the Littlestown center, the progress of the storm could have been charted by the radio messages. Fairfax County, Va., whose fire company radio is on the same frequency as the local stations, was on the air almost constantly directing firemen and ambulances to various scenes of need. Then when the storm started to strike Adams County, the county firemen's communications overlapped those of Fairfax. At times the air waves were "jammed" with messages and units had to repeat their information when the air cleared.

Littlestown and Gettysburg served as a warning service to the rest of the state when the storm, was "lost" for a brief period. State Civil Defense headquarters, plotting the progress of the hurricane across the state, lost it in the area south of Columbia, Harrisburg, then called Gettysburg to ask Littlestown for notification when the wind shifted to the west, indicating that the hurricane had passed this section.

When the call was made when the wind shifted, Harrisburg's response was "That's what we wanted to know!"

Alert Lifted At 9 P.M.

The alert from state Civil Defense headquarters that brought into action the county's C-D workers was not lifted until about 9 o'clock Friday night. The spirit of the volunteer firemen was exemplified by an anonymous radio operator at the Abbottstown fire house. Listeners at Gettysburg heard another fire company in the eastern end of the county talking to Abbottstown. The first fireman wanted to know how long the group should wait before "closing up for the night." Abbottstown's response was, "We started when they called us on, and we'll quit when they call us off."

In addition to the firemen, arrangements were made by Scout District Commissioner Frank Watson for Explorer Scouts of the town to stand by for messenger service if needed. Attorney John MacPhail's welfare services were alerted and standing by if needed to house anyone in the county.

County Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver praised the Civil Defense workers highly. Firemen and auxiliary police braved rain and storm to handle traffic problems and fires. Numerous other volunteers were standing by. Weaver said: "The magnificent display of cooperation shown Friday night in connection with Hurricane Hazel shows that the Civil Defense organization in the county is ready for almost any emergency. We are proud of the splendid cooperation of all. There are areas in which Civil Defense still needs boosting. We still need more volunteers and more training."

Among other storm damage, a locust tree was blown down at the Warner Hospital and another split under pressure of the wind. The hedge at the hospital was also damaged.

At Least 46

went trees and power and light lines.

The storm tore loose from its reinforced moorings the historic U.S. Naval Academy training ship, the Reina Mercedes, and dragged it out in the Severn River with more than 50 aboard.

In the nation's capital, a 74-year-old woman was killed when high winds swept her into the path of a truck as she crossed a street, and a mother died of a heart attack worrying about her young son being caught in the storm.

Power Lines Damaged

In New Jersey, Hazel's major impact was felt in the inland areas while the shore passed the critical high tide period without serious trouble.

It was too early, as in every other community along the storm's route, to count the actual cost in property damage, but New Jersey officials said—in terms of destruction to trees and power lines—it ranked with the disastrous hurricane of November, 1950.

In every community along the hurricane's path the Red Cross, police and firemen, civil defense workers, ordinary citizens, and local officials pitched in to resurround order.

The storm buzz-sawed through central Pennsylvania, leaving in hundreds of unroofed homes, uprooted trees and swollen streams.

Bus Driver Electrocuted

One of those killed was a 29-year-old bus driver, electrocuted when he left his crowded vehicle to examine a power line which had fallen across the roof of his bus near Indianatown Gap, Pa.

Thousands of Pennsylvanians were without lights, communications and transportation today. National Guard and State Police still were on emergency duty at many points.

It was the bulk of the Allegheny Mountains in the eastern part of Pennsylvania and the Poconos in the east which cut Hazel down to gale force.

The center of the storm struck through the Susquehanna River Valley, pounding York, Carlisle, Harrisburg, Columbia, Lancaster, Sunbury, Williamsport, Shamokin, Lebanon and Lewisburg, site of Bucknell University.

Although blunted by the Pennsylvania ranges, Hazel tore into upstate New York leaving torrential rains, gale winds, blocked highways and disrupted power lines.

A man and woman were killed when a store chimney collapsed on their automobile at Norwich and an expectant mother and the child she carried were injured fatally in a two-car crash on a rain-swept northern New York highway.

At Saranac Lake, a 70-year-old woman died after falling downstairs in her home while hunting in the dark for candles.

New York Central Railroad tracks were under water north of Syracuse where Hazel completely lost its power-packed "eye" and became just another tropical-type storm.

Today's Talk

FRIENDS
The most valuable possession in this world is one or more friends. There is no human being so bereft as he who has not a single friend. Not until we have had a friend, and lost him, can we experience the significance of friendship.

W. Robertson Nicoll, famous editor of The British Weekly for many years, said of Scott that "he spoke to every man as if he were his blood relation." No wonder Scott was the character he was, and had so many genuine friends. A friend is not just someone you have met, talked with, or been introduced to, for some purpose outside mutual companionship. A friend is a possible other self. In the city I like to have a friend dine with me. Nothing is quite so desolate as to eat alone. With a friend food always tastes better. Friends are stimulants.

I often think of that incident of Wendell Phillips meeting Nora Perry, the poet, on the street in Boston one day, and inquiring of her where she was going. "To meet a friend," she replied. "Oh, take me with you," said Phillips. "I want to meet one." With all his unselfish activities, here was a man who confessed that he hungered to meet a friend.

No one can be considered poor who still retains at least one honest, faithful, and understanding friend. As a matter of fact, friends are an essential equipment for a successful, happy life. You can't have too many friends, and you can't be too good a friend yourself in order to merit friends.

I wish it weren't so difficult to meet potential friends. I often meet, and pass, people on the crowded street who make me feel I would like to walk up to them and say: "I want you as a friend!" Thousands of these potential friends hunger in their heart for an understanding friend, as we do.

Just Folks

WHAT DO YOU DO?
When a blonde just over three
From her mother's grasp escapes
And climbs boldly on your knee,
Do you let her share your grapes?
If it's ice cream on your dish,
Of the flavor you prefer,
Just to grant her fondest wish
Do you hand a spoon to her?

When she starts to tell you why
She should have a lolly pop,
Do you pass the drug store by
Or decide with her to stop?
When you merely have to pay
Just a little silver dime,
Are you firm enough to say:
"We'll get that some other time?"

From your piece of chocolate cake,
As she stands beside your chair,
Do you gladly let her take
Every bit of frosting there?
When of cookies you've a few,
And there's no more on the shelf,
Do you keep them all for you
Or say: "Welcome! Help yourself!"

Other officers named include: Senior vice commander, Percy S. Robinson; junior vice commander, William Bell; adjutant, Clarence L. Nett, re-elected; quartermaster, John A. Zimmerman, re-elected; trustee for three years, Arthur Myers and officer of the day, Samuel D. Snyder.

"Pop" Sharpe Believed To Be Oldest Bus Driver On Duty: A man who is probably the oldest bus driver on active duty in the United States continues to make his two trips daily to and from Harrisburg—a job he has been doing for the past 20 years.

He is John F. Sharpe who was 70 years old on the Fourth of July and who has been driving for the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Transportation company since it was organized in 1922.

Better known as "Pop" Sharpe, the veteran driver has been in the transportation business since the turn of the century, at which time he was operating a stage coach line between Richmond and Fannettsburg, two towns near McConnellsburg.

Cyclists Pedal To Emmitsburg: Six members of the Gettysburg Bicycle club, and J. Herbert Weikert, who accompanied them in his gasoline powered wheel chair, pedaled to Emmitsburg for dinner Sunday and were joined there by their wives. The group dined at the Green Parrot.

The ten mile trip was made in one hour with three rest stops. The return trip was made by a "back road" which passes the Gettysburg pumping station. Caledonia is the goal for next Sunday's trip if the weather permits.

The cyclists included Radford Lippy, R. F. Saylor, Irvin Menges, Charles Woodward, Harold Reuning and Kenneth Stine.

TWO UTILITIES
FAVOR NATURAL GAS SERVICE

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—Two utility companies were ready to present arguments favoring applications pending before the Public Utility Commission that could bring natural gas service to north-central Pennsylvania.

PUC Examiner Albert W. Johnson, Roaring Spring, was assigned to take testimony at a combined public hearing on applications of the Scranton-Spring Brook Water Service Co. of Wilkes-Barre and the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. of Pittsburgh.

The two companies seek to extend natural gas service by making it available on the retail level in Columbia, Northumberland, Snyder, Montour and Lycoming counties and on the wholesale level in Clinton, Clearfield and McKean.

Specifically the Pittsburgh utility has applied for a charter amendment to enlarge its territory of supply to include the right to make wholesale sales in Clinton, Clearfield and McKean. Scranton-Spring Brook, one of the largest privately owned water companies in the world, has intervened in this application favoring it.

Service Elsewhere
The Wilkes-Barre firm announced Aug. 20 it wants permission to retail natural gas in its Sunbury, Williamsport and Bloomsburg-Danville divisions taking in the other five counties. The company now sells manufactured gas there.

Scranton-Spring Brook would buy its supply of natural gas from Manufacturers for 20 years according to the applications.

Three other gas companies besides Scranton-Springbrook, also are backing the Manufacturers application. They are the Clearfield Gas and Fuel Co., the Renovo Gas and Fuel Co., and the Lock Haven Gas Co.

When Scranton-Spring Brook announced its intention to file its application, company president Rulison Evans said introduction of natural gas in the north-central region is "essential for many reasons."

May Lose Industries
He contended that "several large industries may be lost to the area unless natural gas is made available." He said he believed the extension of natural gas service would increase employment in the region "by fostering of industrial expansion, thus benefiting the state as a whole."

The five-county area borders on the anthracite coal region which traditionally has opposed introduction of natural gas service.

Scranton-Spring Brook serves 57 communities in Susquehanna, Wayne, Lackawanna and Luzerne counties and has a gas division which retails manufactured gas. The company has about 80,000 manufactured gas customers.

Also involved in the Scranton-Spring Brook application is a $600,000 lease-purchase agreement with the Trans-Penn Transit Corp., Bradford, involving 140 miles of pipeline from Hyner, Clinton County, to Millway Junction, Lancaster County.

The company wants to lease 35 per cent of the capacity of the portion between Hyner and South Sunbury, Northumberland, for two years. At the same time it would buy the section of line between Hyner and Millway Junction.

Before 1941 natural gas was sold in the Williamsport area but when the production of gas in the Tioga Field declined the service was ended.

The next total eclipse of the sun will be June 20, 1955, and will be visible over southeastern Asia and the Philippines.

The Winners Class of the Frank-

THREATENED BY STRONG BATTLE

Editor's Note—This is another of several stories by roving Associated Press reporters analyzing the campaign in key states.

By JACK BELL
CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—A strong Democratic wind is threatening to blow Wyoming Republicans out of Senate, House and governor seats in the November election despite entrenchment of GOP candidates behind a 33-000-vote majority for President Eisenhower in 1952.

Republicans pitch their campaign in the state primarily on the appeal to give Eisenhower a Republican Congress and a GOP governor with whom he can work closely. Democrats contend Wyoming economic conditions are giving them a political edge that could be transformed into a clean sweep.

At stake in the November balloting are the Senate seat now held by Republican E. D. Cripps, appointed after the death of Democratic Sen. Lester C. Hunt; the House post now held by GOP Rep. William H. Harrison and the government UB Sunday School went to the home for the aged at the Piney Mountain Inn site, near Caledonia, recently to give an inspirational program.

Mrs. Lizzie Reynolds, near Wells-ville, has been in York Hospital due to a fractured leg and injured right hand as the result of a fall Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Reynolds was walking through a meadow and fell when she tripped over a concealed tree root.

Officers chosen by the Washington Grange, Kralltown, at their recent meeting were Ivan Deter as master; John H. Leathery, overseer; Madeline Thomas, lecturer; Ruth S. Leathery, chaplain; Edward Livingston Sr., steward, with Wayne Cook as his assistant; Oliver S. Hofman, gatekeeper; Elizabeth K. Hull, secretary; Florence Strayer, treasurer; Mary Cook, pomona; Joyce Hess, cures; Adella Deter Lady, assistant steward; Helen Cooke, flora; Harry Thomas, executive committee member.

12 Iranian Officers
Sentenced To Die

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—A military court Friday sentenced to death by firing squad a second group of 12 Iranian army officers charged with spying for the Russians.

The twelve included two colonels, four majors, four captains and two lieutenants.

Eighteen more members of the army, police, air force and gendarmerie are awaiting trial, and lawyers are preparing briefs against others of the 650 officers crowded Tehran jails. They were rounded up in a recent purge that Premier Fazollah Zahedi's government said broke a vast spy network.

ernor's office now filled on an acting basis by Republican C. J. Rogers.

"A Fight On Our Hands"

Back into the fray for the Senate seat he lost by 4,600 votes in 1952 has come 69-year-old Joseph C. O'Mahoney. Opposing him is Rep. Harrison, victor in a bitter Republican primary.

In the frank, private appraisal of Republican and Democratic leaders, O'Mahoney is ahead at this stage of the game. He is stumping vigorously, talking of past accomplishments in the Senate and contending the state needs the "recognition" he says it would get with his name.

Harrison, who concedes "we've got a fight on our hands," is campaigning on the assertion that "the principal issue is whether the people want to continue the program President Eisenhower has started of getting the country back on a sound financial basis."

The Republicans contend publicly that Milward Simpson, their candidate for governor, is ahead, but some of their own private checks show surprising strength for the Democratic candidate, William "Scotty" Jack.

As some of Jack's friends put it,

PUBLISH PAPER
DESPITE POWER
FAILURE FRIDAY

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Doylestown Intelligencer put out its 150th anniversary edition today—and because of Hurricane Hazel, much of the printing operation was the same as that employed 150 years ago.

Newsmen on the old Bucks County newspaper had to work 6 1/2 hours by candlelight and kerosene lamps last night to get out the special 52-page edition.

The hurricane brought about a power failure at the newspaper plant, as it did over much of Bucks County.

"We used facilities that could have been used 150 years ago to produce the same paper," commented Managing Editor George Thompson. "But that's what made the difference between missing an edition or maintaining a perfect record of 150 years of publication."

Page forms were prepared by hand as were all other operations except the actual printing, which must be done on an electrically-operated rotary press. Power was restored at 1:05 a.m. today in time to roll the presses.

he has been "running for governor for 25 years," although this is his first official try.

Democrats haven't elected Wyoming's sole House member since 1940, but they have a hustling candidate this year in Sam Tully, mayor of Rawlins.

Tully, who is opposing E. Keith Thomson, Cheyenne attorney and Republican nominee, has led the way in Democratic criticism of the Eisenhower administration, accusing it of "inefficiency, indifference and indecency."

"Hazel" Halts Grid Games; Recorded For Tonight At Biglerville, Shippensburg

Hurricane Hazel took a 100 per cent toll in the scholastic football games scheduled for Friday evening, all contests in this area being postponed until today or Monday.

Biglerville and Littlestown will get together tonight at 8 o'clock at Biglerville for their big Laurel Conference game. Despite the postponement, a huge crowd is expected to watch these rivals tangle. Biglerville is winless in three games while the Thunderbolts are unbeaten with only a tie to mar their four-game card.

Gettysburg High journeys to Shippensburg tonight for a game at 8 o'clock. Although the Shippensburg area had considerably more rain than locally, Richard Vancocoy, Greyhound athletic director, reported this morning the game will be played as the field is expected to dry rapidly throughout the remainder of the day.

The Warriors and Shippensburg sorely need victory and each feels the opportunity will present itself this evening. Gettysburg has a 1-4 record while Shippensburg has lost all of its four games.

The Hanover - Chambersburg South Penn tilt has been postponed until Monday at 8 p.m. at Chambersburg.

Another postponement finds Carlisle at Middletown tonight.

The Hershey-Waynesboro game slated for Friday was cancelled earlier this week due to polio at Hershey.

EAGLES, LIONS EXPECTED TO STAY UNBEATEN

By TED MEIER
The Associated Press

On the face of things the Philadelphia Eagles and Detroit Lions seem a cinch to remain unbeaten this weekend as the National Football League swings into its fourth week of competition.

But it is just possible the Washington Redskins and the Baltimore Colts will upset the nicely laid plans of the Eagles and Lions.

The world champion Lions, Western Conference leaders, entertain the Colts in a night game at Briggs Stadium Saturday night. Sunday, the Eagles, on top in the Eastern Conference, invade Washington to battle the Redskins at Griffith Stadium.

4 Other Sunday Games

There are four other Sunday games. The New York Giants, tied with Pittsburgh for the runner-up spot to the Eagles, open their 30th home season at Polo Grounds against the Chicago Cardinals. Pittsburgh entertains the Cleveland Browns; San Francisco will play the Chicago Bears in Chicago, and the Los Angeles Rams tangle with the Green Bay Packers in Milwaukee.

Off its convincing triumph over the Rams last Sunday, Detroit is favored to stomp the Colts tonight, but the Baltimore eleven surprised the Giants two weeks ago.

ABBOTTSTOWN — LeRoy Witters and Curvin Altland returned from a successful hunting trip to Canada, each of them having shot a moose.

The 500 Card Club met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Gus Astrom. Prizes were won by Mrs. Ellis Stambaugh, Mrs. Bernard Anthony, Mrs. Homer Hafer, Mrs. Richard Hoke and Mrs. George Wildasin. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Homer Hafer.

George Reichert is ill at his home due to an infection of his foot.

The Ever Ready Class of the Reformed Church met recently at the home of Mrs. Ruth Kinneman. A white elephant sale was a feature of the evening. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Isabel Gunnett, Mrs. Louise Briggs, Nancy Walton and Debra Sue Walton, York, were visitors Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Grace Nagle.

MACKS STUDY OFFER BY "LAST MINUTE" MEN

By TOM BRADSHAW
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics' franchise today was in the position of a 54-year-old tree that had been buffeted by a major league hurricane—trotting before a gale out of Kansas City but not quite fully uprooted.

Roy Mack, executive vice president of the Athletics and "tree surgeon deluxe" in the drama, was bidding the few hours left to make up his mind whether he was prepared to sell out to Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier who wants to move the franchise to Kansas City, a move already approved by a meeting of American League owners.

Mack's alternative was to produce a financial shot in the arm, a cure that became more than a vague possibility yesterday when a band of 10 "last minute" men pledged sufficient cash to keep the club in Philadelphia.

Family Powwow
Roy took the pledge under advisement and retired to his chambers to deliberate over the weekend, with his brother, Earle, and their father, Connie Mack Sr.—the other major factors in any deal—reportedly standing by for sudden action.

All of which left Johnson and Will Harridge, American League president—among others—slightly bothered and bewildered.

Roy Promised Job
Johnson last night issued a "statement of position." Johnson said he was still under the impression he was on the inside track to buy the Philadelphia American League franchise and had the cash ready whenever Roy Mack made up his mind. In fact said Johnson, he had promised Roy a five-year contract for a front-office job with the transplanted A's at Kansas City, plus a share of stock in the club, and a job for Roy's son, Connie Mack III.

Harridge wasn't talking beyond his statement of 24 hours earlier that the league had approved the sale to Johnson and transfer to Kansas City. The league, said Harridge, was still sitting and waiting.

But admittedly it went a little deeper into the Mack clan than just Roy's mind. The big hitch seemed to be the question of whether Roy could obtain from the 10 Philadelphia businessmen a promise to match Johnson's five-year plan.

6 Students Die In Crossing Crash

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—Six high school sophomores returning from a homecoming football game were killed last night when a passenger train smashed into their car, crumpling it "like an accordion."

Bodies were strewn for a block along the tracks.

The youths, all between 15 and 16, had been spectators at the football game between De La Salle of Minneapolis and Cathedral.

Gay homecoming decorations still fluttered from the littered wreckage of the car. Persons who viewed the wreckage turned away "crying and screaming," a witness said.

Woman Is Killed In Headon Collision

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A Detroit woman was killed and her husband and another man were seriously injured in a headon collision yesterday on the Pennsylvania Turnpike about 10 miles north of here.

Dead was Mrs. Lucille Dozier, about 45, of Detroit, Mich. Injured critically and admitted to Chambersburg Hospital were Walter Dozier, about 45, husband of the victim and driver of one car, and George F. Mills, Massillon, Ohio, driver of the other car.

State police said the Dozier car crossed the median strip and crashed into the oncoming Mills vehicle. Mills was alone in the car.

Natural Gas Use May Reduce Rates

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—An official of the Scranton-Spring Brook Water Service Co., Wilkes-Barre, said introduction of natural gas service to part of north central Pennsylvania would bring an immediate reduction of present gas rates.

Rullison Evans, president of the utility, told the Public Utility Commission yesterday at a public hearing that his firm is ready to be in the service 90 days after PUC authorization is received.

He pointed to the gas rate reduction as an encouragement to ring industry into the area.

Swollen Streams Force Many Western Pennsylvanians To Evacuate Their Homes Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Overflowing creeks and swollen streams forced hundreds of western Pennsylvanians to flee their homes early today and then as emergency workers were summoned, the raging waters began slowly to recede.

Waters from numerous tiny creeks and tributaries poured into the rising Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers which merge in Pittsburgh to become the Ohio River. However, a 30-foot crest predicted for the steel city late today held little of the terror wrought by the tributaries.

Even at 30-feet, five above flood stage, little damage would be done officials here said.

By contrast, in nearby Derry, the reservoir overflowed and covered the site of a water main break, leaving the town's 8,000 residents without a water supply.

Worst Flood In Years

Turtle Creek in Wilmerding, normally of wading depth, spread to a width of 300 feet. A town official described it as the "worst flood in years that I can remember."

Police, firemen and civil defense workers plodded through the swirling waters and evacuated persons from 150 homes. Also slightly inundated was the Westinghouse Corp. plant in East Pittsburgh and its air brake plant in Wilmerding.

In the town of Turtle Creek 400 to 500 persons were evacuated. Four families were rescued not only from the flood but also from a fire that broke out in a two-story apartment house.

At West Newton the raging Youghiogheny River flooded the business district to a depth of five feet. At least a hundred homes were evacuated.

Butler was another hard hit community as Connoqueening Creek went over its banks. State police there said Butler was taking "a terrific beating."

Other Towns Affected

Other hard hit towns were Zelienople and Harmony.

The flood resulted in part from rains that amounted to six inches in 12 hours yesterday and were intensified by a backlash from Hurricane Hazel.

Congressman Augustine B. Kelley of Greensburg described the situation as an emergency.

Three deaths had resulted. Roy Barkley, 44, drowned near Somerset when he tried to rescue a mother and her two children trapped when part of a foot bridge was swept away in White Creek. As he completed a temporary structure, the bridge gave way and he plunged into the water. The others were saved.

Mrs. Mary Nehalik of Connellsville died of a heart attack shortly after moving some furniture to the second floor of a house to keep it from rising water.

Believes Reds Are To Invade Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Gen. Wang Shi-ming, boss of Nationalist China's air force, thinks the Chinese Reds are getting ready to invade Formosa. The Nationalists, he declares, can't drop their guard for a moment.

Wang, known as "tiger" although he looks more like a bulldog, side-stepped the controversial issue of Nationalist attacks on the mainland in an interview. But it wasn't hard to see his real feeling.

He thinks the Reds intend to invade and that his air force ought to be smashing anything that looks like a buildup. The idea of holding his punch until an invasion is underway doesn't appeal, although he wouldn't say so in so many words.

Wang years for the day when his pilots will have more planes, particularly F86 jets which are a match for the Communist MIG-15 jets. He now has F84s, plus World War II bombers and fighter-bombers.

Floods, Epidemic Kill 40 Mexicans

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP)—Officials said today floods and an unidentified epidemic have caused the deaths of at least 40 persons in coastal towns near here.

Five persons were drowned and 35 children died of the mysterious disease that swept the area following the floods, officials say.

The storm demolished much of the towns of Panuco and Reventadero, officials declared. Thousands of acres of land are inundated. Loss of livestock is said to be heavy.

mud additives; 2,000 to 5,000 sacks of cement; 48,000 barrels of water and 3,000 barrels of fuel oil, plus the services of 125 skilled workers, working full-or part-time. Then he might wind up with a nonproducer.

According to the record, of 49,325 wells drilled in the U. S. in 1953, 25,748 were oil wells; 3,801 were gas wells; 18,509 were dry holes; and 1,267 were service wells. Total footage drilled amounted to almost 200 million feet, four times the earth's diameter.

The Socialist party has given up, so far as being an active political entity is concerned. It will not put a ticket in the field in 1956. Its following has steadily shrunk—where it gained a vote of almost 1,000,000 in 1920, the 1952 total was an insignificant 20,000.

The American people won't vote socialist. Yet all kinds of socialist ideas and doctrines have been put over on the American people by men using camouflage labels. In short we have been fed socialism, centralized government, bureaucracy and debt—by indirection and by plain deceit.

The people are losing this gullibility. That's one of the best signs of the time.

Some motorists seem to think a locomotive whistles at a crossing just to keep up its courage.

The Laymen's National Committee announces that the 14th annual observance of National Bible Week will be held from October 18th through 24th. Its purpose is to encourage everyone to read the Bible—and thus to help find the spiritual strength and courage which is so necessary to our very survival in today's chaotic world.

Abraham Lincoln once said that the Bible is "the best gift God has given to man." Its precepts are timeless and as enduring as the world itself. Read the Bible during the Week—and every week thereafter.

A small town without a newspaper would be like a school without a teacher or a church without a pastor!

That striking opinion comes from Professor John H. Casey of the Department of Journalism of the University of Oklahoma. He went on to say this: "In the aggregate, the country newspaper determines the outcome of more elections, exerts a greater influence for constructive community progress, is read longer by more members of the family, and constitutes, with its millions of circulation and quadrupled millions of readers, a better advertising medium than any other group of newspapers or periodical publications."

"Through service to its community, the country newspaper will not merely survive; it will continue to flourish."

RAY ROBINSON SAYS HE HAS OLD URGE TO FIGHT

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, one of the greatest boxers of all time, says he has the "urge" to fight again and hopes to make a comeback.

"It all depends on how I look in training," said Robinson who retired 22 months ago as undefeated world middleweight champion.

"I feel good—I don't think I ever felt any better," said Ray at a press conference at his Harlem bar and grill Friday. "I would like to be the first retired champion ever to regain a title, and I hope to get a shot at middleweight champion Bobo Olson if my training works out well."

He's 32 Or 34

"But if I can't regain the condition that I was once so proud of then I'll give the idea up."

Robinson, who says he is 32 although the record books list him as 34, apparently has forgotten the statement he issued when he gave up his middleweight crown 22 months ago.

"I find I can't move in the ring with the same speed, dispatch and accuracy," said Robinson then.

"Now the coordination isn't there any more... I don't want to wait to have someone tell me I'm through."

Robinson, whose last fight was a 14th-round TKO loss to light heavyweight champion Joe Maxim on June 25, 1952, said he would go to his training camp at Greenwood Lake Monday and take things easy for a month before he really began to train.

BASILIO WINS 1-SIDED FIGHT

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio, son of an union farmer from nearby Canastota, stood out today as the only logical opponent for the winner of next Wednesday's welterweight title fight between champion Kid Gavilan and Johnny Saxton.

Carmen added unranked Allie Cronik of Detroit—the second sub for a toples All Turner—to his long list of victims here Friday night and came away with assurances of both the New York State Athletic Commission and the International Boxing Club that he would get Wednesday's winner in a championship chance.

The decision hardly could have been more one sided. Basilio won all 10 rounds on Judge Ted Shell's card and nine on all the others. Judge Jack Kimball gave Cronik the third round. Referee Harry Kessler called the fourth even. The AP card had the fifth even.

Some Of Best Features Of Cars Of Yesteryear May Be Revived; Scribe Suggests List He Likes

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

A lot of drivers would still be on the road today if their stop-lights had been on the speedometer instead of the rear fenders.

Voting for Encores

With all the attention being paid to seeing the new and novel in automobile design it is justifiable that some of those who have watched the big parade over a period of years should yearn for a return of some of the stellar attractions of yesterday. There are many, for instance, who would settle for a revival of car heating from the exhaust system. Never was there a better way to heat the car than by tapping the great quantity of heat which comes from because there was danger of metals rotting out on the old system. It is no reason why modern engineers could not design the arrangement so that exhaust gases could not enter the car.

One feature which has not been evident in some time is the stop-center of the instrument panel instead of within the reach of the driver or a passenger only. Perhaps we shall also see a return to the split windshield. That small strip down the middle of the glass was no blind spot and it added beauty to the shield in addition to rigidity. In event of glass replacement it offered a desirable saving. We are, however, fairly likely to see a return to the steel spoked wheel which allowed for better brake ventilation.

Meet That Double Cap

While the pressure cap atop the radiator is a common sight these days you'd be surprised how many people do not understand that it contains two valves. One is to provide escape for pressure, and for coolant, if the engine gets hot. But there is another valve which takes care of a process few realize occurs. When the engine cools off there's likely to be a vacuum created within the cooling system, and unless this is relieved by an automatic vent there may be damage to the radiator or hoses.

I Place My Bet

With anti-freeze time coming along perhaps I should repeat that I am still favorable to the plan of using soluble oil rust inhibitor in the cooling system. This is found in some of the anti-freezes. I concede that if overdone the use of such oil may tend to leave an oily coating inside the cooling system and thus slightly retard conductivity of heat, but by the same token this oil is an excellent preventive of rust and corrosion. But for my money its greatest virtue lies in lubricating the water pump internally. One of my cars which is now in its fifteenth year has never needed a new pump.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Over the years I have learned that some jobs should be done by

See New Egg Mark For Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP)—A new one year egg production record for Pennsylvania was predicted today for 1954.

Following federal and state surveys the State Agriculture Department predicted a total production of over 4 billion eggs for the first time. The department said output for the first nine months of 1954 totaled 3,890,000,000 or 192 million ahead of last year. The 1953 record total was 3,920,000,000.

The survey also showed that September output of 323 million was a new record for any September. It was about 20 per cent above the previous best September last year.

hand, or at least started by hand. I am reminded of this because of just having installed a set of new spark plugs.

"If you use a wrench for the whole business of screwing in the plugs you are not likely to know that some grit has been caught between a plug and its gasket or between the gasket and the engine. Cleanliness is important here, and if you started the plugs by hand you can feel any grit you have overlooked. Then finish up with a torque wrench."

Thumbs Down On This

While many motorists still install an extra cylinder head gasket to check plug from too high compression the engineers advise against the idea. One objection is that two head gaskets greatly increase the chance of leakage, not only of combustion gases but of coolant as well. They further point out that the double gasket idea is not necessary because if the head is removed the owner might just as well clean out the carbon. If the engine then still pings it needs more careful timing or a checking of its cooling system.

Did You Know

That the thread of a cobweb is 10 times thicker than the oil film for the top of the cylinders and pistons of your car?

That on one car where the exhaust manifold was too near the steering gear so as to cause lube to thin down and leak out a cure was effected by venting the steering gear housing?

That the tires on your car may waste as much as 12 or 13 horsepower when you are rolling along at 60 miles per hour?

Testing For Fluid

Do the windows of your car and the driver's seat and the convertible top operate by a combination of electric motive power and hydraulic pressure? If so, there's a simple way to make sure that the system has sufficient fluid in the lines.

The trick is to have the top up and the seat all the way forward. Then close all the windows except the one beside the driver. If this window is slow raising or won't rise at all, the system needs fluid. What you have done is to fill all the lines.

Radiator Makes News

While it is true that the increasing complexities of the automobile have been making it more difficult to do simple jobs especially around the engine the radiator stands as a notable exception to the trend. Since it is no longer so closely wedded to the grille it is easily removed for cleaning, inspection and repair. It is comparatively light, and in many instances is smaller than its predecessors. Leakage is indicated by discolored areas on the core, and of course by a drop in coolant level.

Bearing On Ignition

It isn't unusual for the coil to be blamed when the truth is that the ignition switch has become useless. You can tell by wiring the switch out of the circuit for a test of the motor.

A feeler gauge won't serve to provide accurate breaker point checking if the points are rough. Normally the breaker points should have a light grayish appearance. If they are black the chances are that they are hand-capped by oil vapor or grease. If the points look bluish there's trouble.

Little Drops of Oil

There's still real use for an oil can, but it should be a small one with a long thin spout, and the lubricant should be quite light.

One spot where a few drops of oil will do wonders is around the window regulators. After such treatment be sure to wipe off any excess of oil, and of course oil sparingly. A drop or two of oil on the windshield wiper arm shaft will help too. Then there are the hinges for the luggage compartment cover.

In The Motor Mail

Q. Drilling a small vent in the distributor cap has failed to check explosions inside the distributor when cranking the engine. What now? N. K. L.

A. I would replace the diaphragm of the vacuum spark control. It evidently leaks so that gasoline fumes get into the distributor from the intake manifold.

Q. Is it ever advisable to install a spotlight on the right side of the car instead of the left? Wm. L. H.

A. Now that it is necessary to mount the spotlights on the front doors the right hand installation keeps the handle away from the many other controls which are grouped in front of the driver. Since spotlights are used merely to read signs and house numbers it is no problem for the driver to stop the car and reach over to use the spotlight or have his front seat passenger handle it.

Q. Can tubes for 15 inch wheels be used in 16 inch tires. D. N.

A. Tire men advise against this on the theory that there is more chance of rim cutting with this mixture of sizes.

Q. Several times when applying the brakes they have continued to stay on until I backed up. The rest of the time action has been normal. Can you help with a diagnosis? T. H. McB.

A. The chances are that just one of the brakes was locking. This often gives the effect of trouble with all of them. I would check for binding brakeshoe anchor pins.

Q. Is it necessary to operate the engine while refilling the automatic transmission? I have had conflicting advice on this and would like to avoid trouble. N. L. F.

A. Methods differ for different types of automatic drives, and unless you are well posted you are really running a risk by not letting a skilled service man do the job for you. On your particular car, for instance, three quarts of the special oil are put into the torque converter. Next the engine is idled. Then the remaining seven quarts are added.

Japan To Revive Aircraft Industry

TOKYO (AP)—Japan has drawn up a three-year plan calling for an outlay of 80 million dollars to revive her aircraft and munitions industries, the newspaper Asahi reported Friday.

The newspaper said the plan calls for the United States to meet two thirds of the cost.

Asahi said the government drafted the plan to present to the United States in forthcoming talks in Washington between Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and top American leaders.

Yoshida currently is in Europe. The plan will be carried to Washington by Trade Minister Kichichi Aichi, Asahi said. Aichi also will carry a plan asking for about 400 million dollars worth of surplus American agricultural products to be sold here and the money used to build up Japan's shaky industrial economy.

Q. What would cause small black spots to appear on the finish of my car? The color is maroon. Would this be due to too much sunlight or to the polish I am using? K. W.

A. This is one of the problems that is being studied currently. Since there are not too many maroon jobs the process has been slower than for a more common color. From what I hear the trouble is due to salt which may have been tossed on the car from the tires of other cars during the winter.

Q. Would I get better gas mileage by starting in low gear and then moving the selector lever to drive when starting off? K. G. G.

A. If you do not gun the motor this may be the better way to get off with a torque converter. Where the transmission is fully automatic and not equipped with a torque converter there would be no advantage in starting in low because the transmission automatically starts in low anyway.

Love Touches Court Clerk; He Pays Fine

HOUSTON (AP)—Johnny Goyen, corporation court clerk, found this notation Thursday on the back of an overtime parking ticket received in the mail:

"As a new bridegroom, I have many things on my mind that are more important than this. Love to all for love."

On the front of the ticket was: "See you on my return from my honeymoon in India."

The ticket was signed by Robert E. Waska, a State Department employee stationed in Karachi, Pakistan.

Born in Paupack, Pa., Dr. Race was educated at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa., and Princeton University and held a doctor of divinity degree from Syracuse University.

He was a member of the Wyoming Conference of the Methodist Church and at the time of his death had been a Methodist minister for 64 years.

Plucky Rabbit Rules Big Pyrenees Dog

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mr. Courage, a 130-ounce cottontail rabbit, is standing off a 130-pound Pyrenees dog out in Warrensville Heights, Ohio.

The rabbit was taken into the John R. Arthur Family two weeks ago and put out to share a 10-by-20-foot doghouse with Duchess.

Next day the rabbit caught Duchess fooling around with his lettuce. Mr. Courage placed himself in the door and since then has refused to let Duchess come in.

Guilty Of Attempt To Murder Heiress

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Frederick Hammer has been found guilty of assault with intent to kill his wealthy, estranged wife, shipping heiress Andrea Luckenbach Hammer.

A Superior Court jury returned the guilty verdict yesterday. Sentencing was postponed until Oct. 22.

Hammer also was convicted of simple assault in the shooting of Woodrow Long, Mrs. Hammer's horse trainer.

The shootings were in a stable at Delaware Park race track last June. Mrs. Hammer and Long recovered.

WASHABLE WOOLENS

Some wools are specially treated so they can be washed. Check labels carefully and follow these directions for washing:

Use warm water and plenty of mild soap suds. If you machine wash, keep the water level high and the load light. Press while damp with a steam iron, preferably on the wrong side.

'CHUTES TO SAFETY

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Lt. Hoyt S. Vandenberg Jr., son of the late chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force, parachuted to safety Friday before his Sabre jet fighter crashed near Frankfurt. He bailed out at 8,000 feet and was slightly injured when he landed in an open area close to the village of Bauschneim, Air Force officials said.

COKE RESIGNS

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday accepted the resignation of Earl Coke as an assistant secretary of agriculture and picked to succeed him Ervin L. Peterson, 45, director of the Oregon State Agriculture Department.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Tooth Has To Be Extracted Twice

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pat Stillson, 10, pulled a loose tooth Tuesday and was told he ought to put it under a pillow and perhaps the fairies would come along and replace it with a lovely present.

But Pat isn't the sort to be careless with merchandise of such high potential value. If he put the tooth under his pillow, it could be that one of the brothers would make off with it, he reasoned.

So he put the tooth in his ear and went to sleep.

Yesterday, he had an ear ache. His mother took him to Johns Hopkins Hospital for the tooth's second extraction.
